

POSITION AVAILABLE
English and Humanities Teacher
THE PUTNEY SCHOOL

The Putney School is seeking a temporary, full-time English and Humanities Teacher for the fall trimester (late August to mid-December) of the 2024-25 school year as a leave replacement.

About The Putney School: Putney is a progressive boarding school for 230 hardworking and curious students in Putney, Vermont. Hands-on learning is embedded in the school's culture: a working dairy farm, expansive arts offerings, a robust work program, miles of wooded trails, and large solar arrays serve our curriculum. Employees are also part of an intentional residential experience that values belonging and community. We seek applicants who find joy in their work and help others realize how much fun authentic, student-centered learning can be. The school cultivates and sustains an educational community that values difference. Community members explore how they contribute to building a home at Putney where everyone, especially those from historically marginalized populations, can honor their individual racial, gender, ethnic, and socio-economic identities. Putney recognizes this is difficult, communal work, and the school supports all its employees in developing this critical skill set.

Responsibilities:

- Teach three courses for the term, working with students in independent, project-based work.
- Conference regularly with students and write detailed reports on student performance.
- May lead afternoon and/or evening activities in arts, athletics, or another area of expertise.
- Serve as a dorm parent and advise 6-8 students.

Benefits:

- Competitive compensation depending on experience.
- If available, on-campus housing with dormitory responsibilities.

Qualifications:

- An academic background suitable for teaching English and interdisciplinary humanities courses.
- Three or more years of experience teaching English is preferred.
- Possessing an interest in educational design with the ability to weave a strong love of literature and writing instruction into existing curriculum in grade 10 through 12.
- Demonstrated ability to teach to a wide range of student abilities and levels.
- The ideal candidate will be inquisitive, energetic, flexible, collegial, engaged by Putney's mission and creative ethos, and committed to working with adolescents in all aspects of Putney's program.

How to Apply:

Please submit a cover letter and resume via email to employment@putneyschool.org. We will continue reviewing applications until the position is filled.
